Detail Report:

It is an Indian public service program sponsored by the Indian government and is conducted by the department of youth affairs and sports. This scheme was launched in 1969 in 37 universities. At that time the National service scheme had just forty thousand students and the main objective of the scheme was to develop the personality of students through community service. At present, more than 3.2 million students form a part of NSS. It has spread over 298 universities and 42 senior secondary education councils. NSS organizes regular camps which are funded by the Indian government in which the volunteers visit a rural area and perform activities like cleaning, afforestation, rallies, stage shows. They may also invite doctors for regular health check-ups and free health camps for the rural population. Like every year NSS foundation day was celebrated on 24th September in a befitting manner. In this auspicious day NSS unit, S.R.F College organized a college level seminar entitled “The Role of NSS in Modern Society” on 24th September, 2018 at 11 A.M. onwards in Vidyasagar Bhavan, S.R.F College. Detail report:

India is a land of different sects, religions and communities. There is a great diversity in our tastes, manners, customs, and habits. We speak different languages, and yet we are all Indians. 'Unity in Diversity' has been the distinctive feature of our culture. 'Peaceful co-existence has been our motto. But unfortunately, this peace has been endangered now. On the birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi the NSS unit, S.R.F College observed the Communal Harmony Day by organizing a very significant seminar on “The Role of Media for Communal Harmony”. It is no secret that communal harmony is essential to the success of any society. What people forget, however, is that it is not always easy to maintain this level of peace and equilibrium. Indeed, there are many factors that can cause unrest in a community, and of ten times it takes a concerted effort by everyone involved to make things right again. In this context media plays a crucial role. Respected speakers Mrs. Sonali Bhattacharya & Mr. Abdul Munem significantly presented the original positive duty of media in this sensitive issue. They also showed a picture of media's devastating activities in this issue. A significant number of students and teachers participated in this seminar and enjoyed it.

DETAIL DESCRIPTION

HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) is a virus that attacks cells that help the body fight infection, making a person more vulnerable to other infections and diseases. It is spread by contact with certain bodily fluids of a person with HIV, most commonly during unprotected sex (sex without a condom or HIV medicine to prevent or treat HIV), or through sharing injection drug equipment. If left untreated, HIV can lead to the disease AIDS (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome). The human body can't get rid of HIV and no effective HIV cure exists. So, once you have HIV, you have it for life. Luckily, however, effective treatment with HIV medicine (called antiretroviral therapy or ART) is available. If taken as prescribed, HIV medicine can reduce the amount of HIV in the blood (also called the viral load) to a very low level. This is called viral suppression. If a person's viral load is so low that a standard lab can't detect it, this is called having an undetectable viral load. People with HIV who take HIV medicine as prescribed and get and keep an undetectable viral load can live long and healthy lives and will not transmit HIV to their HIV-negative partners through sex. Like every year NSS Unit has observed Red Ribbon Day on World AIDS Day by organizing seminar/symposium etc. In this year NSS unit, S.R.F College organized a seminar on "Current Trends in Diagnosis, Prevention and Management of HIV" to aware the threat among people. Respected TIC, Sujata Mukherjee inaugurated the seminar by delivering her welcome address. Resource person Dr. H. N Fatepuria, Popular Doctor & Donor Member, S. R. Fatepuria College delivered a valuable lecture on how can we avoid HIV-AIDS and what are the various measures to combat this disease. Another speaker Mr. Debarshi Bhattacharya, Associate Professor, S. R. Fatepuria College presented the alarming situation of HIV infection in India as well as West Bengal. The NSS volunteers along with the other students actively participated in this seminar. The question answer session was held at the end of the programme.

Brief Description:

Multilingual and multicultural societies thrive through the preservation of their languages, which serve as conduits for traditional knowledge and cultural heritage. However, linguistic diversity faces increasing threats as more languages vanish. Currently, 40% of the global population lacks access to education in their native language, a figure that exceeds 90% in certain regions. Research underscores the benefits of using learners' native languages in education, fostering better learning outcomes, self-esteem, and critical thinking skills.

This approach also supports intergenerational learning and cultural preservation. International Mother Language Day, first proclaimed by UNESCO and later adopted by the UN General Assembly, under score the role of languages in promoting inclusion and achieving Sustainable Development Goals. The International Language Day was observed by the IQAC, S.R.F. College in a befitting manner in every year. In this year a significant seminar on "Bengali Language-Past, Present & Future" was organized by NSS Unit, S.R.F. College in this auspicious day. Teacher-In-Charge Dr. Sujata Mukherjee highlighted the importance of the day and remembered the martyrs who gave their lives to keep Bengali language live in her inaugural speech. Two eminent speakers Prof. Avijit Bhatta & Dr. Rajan Ganguly presented the glorious past of Bengali language to everyone. They also brought out the decaying face of the language in the present time in front of everyone. Finally, they heartily appeal to everyone to cooperate to save and revive this language.

Objective:The primary objective of the programme is to make the NSS volunteers and students aware about importance of the celebration of International Women’s Day. Detail Description

Each year the International Women’s Day (IWD) creates an opportunity to explore new ways of removing barriers and accelerating progress for gender equality. The 2019 Global IWD Theme: “Think equal, build smart, innovate for change / Hanoinbaigualdade, konstrui ho matenek, inovasaunbamudansa”, encourages investment in gender-responsive public systems, including planning, building and maintaining services and infrastructure that make the most of government resources and help meet the economic and social needs of women and girls, as well as men and boys. Women are often excluded from public investment and infrastructure planning and decision-making processes. As Timor-Leste develops plans and programs to improve its municipal urban centres, it is important to ensure that these investments address the needs of the wider society. One way to make this happen, is to ensure women and other vulnerable groups have a voice in every aspect of the development of public investments. This includes areas such as governance systems, infrastructure, water, sanitation, public service delivery, public spaces, and public transport. The NSS unit, S.R.F College celebrated the International Women’s Day every year in a befitting manner. In this year NSS unit, S.R.F College organized a seminar on “Invest in women: Accelerate progress”. Mr. Sumit Ghosh, Programme Officer, NSS Unit, S.R.F College gave an impressive welcome address at the beginning of the seminar. The respected speaker Dr Sujata Mukherjee, Teacher-In-Charge, S.R.F College gave an illuminating speech on the topic. She highlighted the impeccable contribution of women in society in all the sector. She He concluded his speech by hoping that the infinite power that women possess will come out in the days to come and take the society forward.

Brief Description:

In recent times, the water crisis in India has become a matter of serious concern, affecting millions of people across India. Each year, people of Bihar and Assam face severe flooding, while people of large parts of Jharkhand and West Bengal face drought-like conditions. Much of the water crisis in India is caused not by natural disasters, but rather because of severe mismanagement of water resources, poor governance and apathy about the magnitude of the crisis. To date, much of the water crisis has been concentrated in rural areas and has been given little mainstream media attention. Unfortunately, as the crisis worsens, urban areas will start to feel the adversities associated with water mismanagement. To give light on this matter and to make students aware of this alarming situation, a seminar on Water Crisis in India Problem and Its Solutions was organized by S.R.F College in association with the department of Environmental Science, S.R.F College on 19th July, 2019. The tagline for the seminar was 'Slow the flow, save H₂O'. Mr. Pinaki Bose and MS. Pousali Chattaraj, Faculty, Department of Environmental Science, S.R.F College gave precious lectures through PPT on water crisis scenario in India and its possible sustainable management. Brief Description:

Teachers play a major role in making their students responsible citizens of tomorrow and good human beings. Teachers' Day is important for students because it gives them a chance to understand the efforts put in by their teachers. Teachers also look forward to the celebration because their efforts get recognized and honored. On the birth anniversary of Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, former President of India, we celebrate Teachers' Day to felicitate and thank teachers who work as a backbone of the society by providing knowledge and guidance to students. The theme for World Teachers' Day in 2019 was "Young Teachers: The future of the Profession". The theme celebrated the teaching profession, its achievements, and addressed the issues that teachers face, while also bringing young talents into the profession. Like every year, NSS Unit & IQAC, S. R. Fatepuria College celebrated Teachers' Day, 2019 with proper respect and organized a state-level seminar on this auspicious day. Students greeted teachers with flower pots, fostering an environmentally friendly gesture. Respected

TIC, Sujata Mukherjee inaugurated the seminar by delivering her impressive welcome address. She explained the nobility and glory of the teaching profession and also the great responsibility. The eminent speakers Dr. Milan Mandal & Mr. Subhas Chandra Mandal highlighted how teaching plays a crucial role in shaping the future of society by educating and developing the next generation of leaders, thinkers, and citizens. They also encouraged students to come to this noble profession. The NSS volunteers along with the other students actively participated in this seminar. The question-answer session was held at the end of the programme. With the valedictory speech of TIC madam, the programme ended.

Brief Description

Children's Day is celebrated in India to raise awareness about the rights, education, and welfare of children. It is celebrated on 14 November every year on the birthday of the first prime minister of India Jawaharlal Nehru, who was known to have been fond of children. Initially, Children's Day in India was celebrated on November 20 in accordance with the Universal Children's Day declared by the United Nations. However, after Jawaharlal Nehru's demise in 1964, a resolution was passed in the Indian Parliament that declared November 14 as Children's Day to honour the legacy of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. The NSS Unit, S.R.F College organized a seminar on this day on "Children: Most Valuable Resources of the Society". TIC, S.R.F College Dr Sujata Mukherjee inaugurated the seminar with a welcome address. Resource person Mr. Subhash Chandra Mandal discussed various issues regarding children's protection, safety and their education in his valuable lecture. Detail Description:

The red ribbon is a symbol for Multiple Sclerosis, drunk driving prevention, drug prevention and for the fight against HIV/AIDS. The Red Ribbon Foundation, Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and the Canadian Multiple Sclerosis Society are examples of organizations that utilize the red ribbon symbol. Red Ribbon is a globally recognised symbol for HIV/AIDS awareness. Establishment of Red Ribbon Clubs was an important initiative undertaken by the Government of India to spread awareness about HIV/AIDS and associated myths among the youth and empower them as per educators. Like every year NSS Unit has observed Red Ribbon Day on World AIDS Day by organizing seminar/symposium etc. This year NSS Unit, S.R. FC College organized a very significant seminar on “Effect of Climate on HIV” on this auspicious day to aware the new concept among people. Resource person Dr. H. N Fatepuria, Popular Doctor & Donor Member, S. R. Fatepuria College delivered a valuable lecture on common misconceptions about HIV/AIDS. He identified these common misconceptions as one of the serious threats to any HIV/AIDS patient. Another speaker Mr. Debarshi Bhattacharya presented the alarming situation of HIV infection in India as well as in our district Murshidabad. He tried to find out the root of the threat especially in our district in his speech. The last speaker Mr. Pinaki Bose demonstrated how the climate affects HIV infection. He also elaborately discussed how climate change ultimately accelerates the threat all over the world. The NSS volunteers along with the other students actively participated in this seminar. The question-answer session was held at the end of the programme.

Detail Description:

The primary aim of sensitizing the students about the philosophies, principles, and ideas of Swami Vivekananda, a great spiritual leader and reformer, was the main objective of the celebration. The students get the opportunity to understand the great work done in the different field, especially spirituality thus motivated to be good citizens of India and contributing to the country's development. His work was carried out more than a hundred and fifty years ago when the prevalent conditions were not congenial to the people by large to accept any positive change. The effort taken by him have left a deep positive impression in the minds of the people. The generation to date will remember the faith this great leader had in the youth and the potential to carry out positive changes for a longer time. 'Swami Vivekananda's teachings are thought-provoking and help us to understand, to combine the good features of the Western world, and retain Indian culture.' In short, our youth has the power to build a nation so we must give them the opportunity. They are the future and they have the perspective that the older generations lack. Their zeal and enthusiasm must be channeled properly to help a nation prosper and flourish. The NSS Unit observed the National Youth Day in a befitting manner on 12th January 2020. Teacher-in-Charge, Dr. Sujata Mukherjee delivered a significant lecture on the importance of this day. She motivated students with her lecture to build strong personality and self confidence by some simple exercises. She also added how a confident youth can develop society. Dr. Malay Kr. Ghosh, Assistant Professor, S. R. Fatepuria College delivered a valuable talk on the topic and presented the success story of our national heroes. He concluded his speech with a general call to build our Nation as a model Nation. All the NSS volunteers and the students of various departments participated in this seminar. With the valedictory speech, the program was successfully ended.

Detail Description

A novel infectious disease of coronavirus family was identified in Wuhan, China in late December 2019, which was later named as COVID-19. In January 2020, WHO confirmed human to human transmission of COVID-19 through respiratory droplets. Later on the same month, authorities confirmed a cluster of COVID-19 cases in Wuhan, which increased rapidly not only in surrounding areas but also spread in the whole country and the outbreak turned into epidemic. On January 23rd, Wuhan was placed under quarantine, while Hubei province followed within few days. Subsequently, Chinese government placed the whole country on lockdown to slow down the spread of infection and ease burden on health facilities. In late 2019, a novel infectious disease with human to human transmission (COVID-19) was identified in Wuhan, China, which now has turned into a global pandemic. Countries all over the world have implemented some sort of lockdown to slow down its infection and mitigate it. Lockdown due to COVID-19 has drastic effects on social and economic fronts. The pandemic has shown clearly the importance of the environment in our lives. NSS Unit, S.R.F. College took responsibility to raise the issue and organized a webinar on “Covid Crisis: Understanding and protecting our environment” in online mode. Respected Teacher-In-Charge Dr. Sujata Mukherjee gave a wonderful welcome address at the beginning of the seminar. Speaker Mr. Pinaki Bose discussed the importance of our environment and he specifically illustrated the human–environment bond. He gave a simple equation $\text{Damage to the environment means damage to mankind}$. Another speaker Mr. Sumit Ghosh discussed the impact of the environment and human life during the covid crisis. This seminar grabbed its realistic value as the students had been enriched with valuable knowledge.

Brief Description

One-day college-level seminar on Women Empowerment and The Indian State has been organized by the Department of Political Science on 20th June 2020. This seminar has been conducted through online mode via Google Meet. 40 Students participated in this online seminar. Mr. Biswanath Sarkar, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Khalisani Mahavidyalaya, Hooghly has been invited to deliver the lecture. He said, that as India progresses economically, there are calls for the country to pay more attention to social and human development, including women's empowerment. After that he started to define women's empowerment as efforts that include advocating for women's and girl's human rights, combating discriminatory practices and challenging the roles and stereotypes that create inequalities and exclusion. Women's empowerment is a critical aspect to achieving gender equality, where both men and women have equal power and opportunities for education, healthcare, economic participation and personal development. India's journey towards women empowerment has its share of highs and lows. It has made gains by ratifying international conventions and formulating domestic policies intended to end gender inequality. The government has created the space for international agencies to work with state governments, local non-government organisations and private corporations on a plethora of projects to support women from different socio-economic backgrounds. Despite these efforts, India's ranking on global surveys of gender equality has not improved significantly over the years. Equal rights for men and women are enshrined under Articles 14 to 16 in the Indian constitution, which came into effect on 26 January 1950. Discrimination based on gender is strictly prohibited. Indian women received universal suffrage during India's independence in 1947, long before several Western countries granted women the right to vote. India was the second country in modern history to have a female leader, Indira Gandhi, in 1966 after another South Asian state, Sri Lanka, elected Sirimavo Bandaranaike in 1960. New Delhi has also taken a concerted effort to ratify key international conventions to end discrimination against women. The Women's Reservation Bill gives 33 per cent reservation for women seats in all levels of Indian politics. This is an attempt to increase female political participation. Women in India are emerging in all sectors, including politics, business, medicine, sports and agriculture. History was made when two female scientists from the Indian Space Research Organisation led the country's second lunar mission Chandrayaan-2 from its inception to completion in 2019. India's journey on women empowerment and gender equality started when it became a sovereign state in 1947. While visible gains have been made through legal reforms, human development and grassroots initiatives, New Delhi still has a long way to go in many areas of women empowerment. A more concerted effort is needed to close the urban-rural divide and ensure that women in rural areas enjoy the same access to education, employment, healthcare and decision-making as their urban counterparts. After the presentation students have been allowed to ask questions. Overall, this online seminar has been proved a successful one.

Concept Note:

The idea of "empire" has been revived multiple times both in the public and academic fronts as a result of the mid- twentieth century intellectual shift that focused on the disconnect between language and reference and knowledge and power. The long-sustained interest of the scholars of postcolonial studies in the British empire slowly shifted to the rising US hegemony and thereby throwing open questions pertaining to the "empire." By this shift in interest and perspectives, the relevance of neo- imperialism, that has distributed power to new domains of cultural, economic and political exchanges also enabled to address the problems emerging within global and local forces. The classical narratives of modernity that largely depended on centre- periphery model are found to be inadequate to address these problems as they are multidirectional in their exchanges of cultural and economic capital. Though the history of such flows shows that such multidirectional and transcultural nature of global culture is not a new phenomenon, many of the problems pertaining to globalisation, neo- colonialism and neo- imperialism can be addressed by adopting a postcolonial analysis of imperial power and the empire. Postcolonial studies in general and postcolonial literary and cultural production in particular have emphasised the need to focus on local agency and its relation to the global. Within the postcolonial thought, issues of environment, global warming and the devastating effects of the pursuit of capital expansion have given rise to new areas of enquiries like ecofeminism, ecological imperialism, speciesism and environmentalism. The concept of boundaries and borders is also one such area that stands relevant for the present times, as nation- states become paranoid about border protection. The increased crossing of borders and flow of populations have blurred the idea of "home" producing a range of imaginary homelands in transnational literary works and other forms of cultural production. In the transnational world, situating the idea of an empire on a single nation's imperial project can become difficult and therefore, perhaps, it becomes even more important in the present times to locate the empire within a global political economy, in order to understand the imbalances between a global ruling class and the rest.

Our faculty member, Mr.Soumalya Ghosh, who is working as an Assistant Professor has been invited by the HOD of thedepartmenttodeliveralectureonthisopic.40studentshavejoinedtheonlinelecture.Mr.Ghoshin hisone-hourlecturehighlightedtheapplicationofIntellectualpropertyinthefieldofinternational relations. Once an arcane and technical topic, intellectual property has become an important focus of contestation in international relations. The expansion of the scope, duration, and subject matter of intellectual property rights has been likened to a second enclosure movement., which has raised concerns about access to and implications for innovation. While legal scholars have dominated the study of intellectual property, in recent years international relations scholars have begun to analyse the politics of this dynamic area of global business regulation. After the presentation, students were allowed to raise questions. Students' doubts have been cleared. Overall, the seminar has proved to be a successful one. We are thankful to him.

The objective of the Programme:

The objective of the one-day National level Webinar on "Women & Human Rights: New Dynamics," organized by the Department of Political Science on 8th March 2022, coinciding with International Women's Day, was to achieve the following goals:

1. Educate participants about the historical and contemporary challenges faced by women in asserting their human rights, emphasizing the evolution of legal and societal frameworks.
2. Discuss the historical context of women's rights movements in India, from early reform efforts by figures like Raja Ram Mohan Roy and Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar to the enactment of pivotal legislation such as the Sati Prevention Act, Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, and Dowry Prohibition Act.
3. Explore the evolution of legal protections for women's rights, including significant legislation like the Hindu Marriage Act and the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, emphasizing their impact on women's social and economic empowerment.
4. Examine contemporary challenges such as gender-based violence, including crimes like rape, abduction, dowry death, acid attacks, and domestic violence, as highlighted by statistics from the National Crime Records Bureau.
5. Discuss the international framework for protecting women's rights, including conventions like CEDAW (Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women), and evaluate their effectiveness in addressing global challenges.
6. Explore emerging dynamics in the field of women's rights, including recent movements like #MeToo, and discuss the need for legislative reforms to address gaps in protecting women's rights in various spheres, including workplace rights such as maternity leave and pay equity.

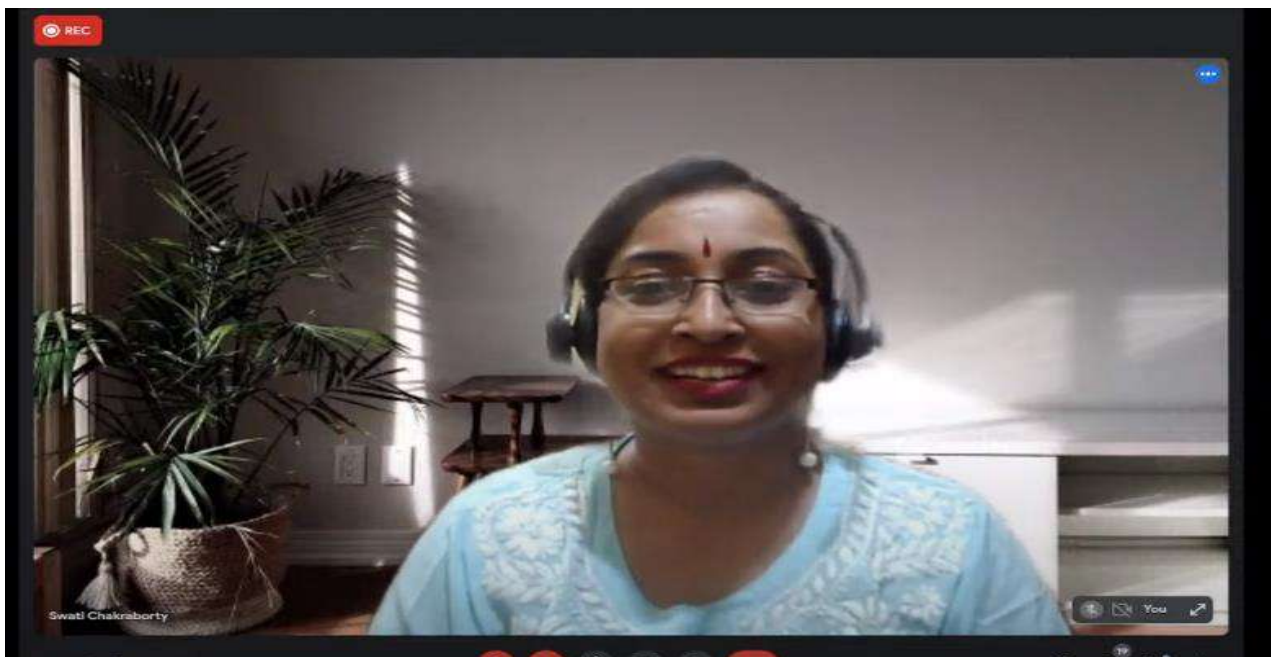

7. Facilitate an interactive session where participants can engage with Dr. Swati Chakraborty, the invited expert, to clarify doubts, discuss implications of the presented topics, and strategize for future advocacy and reform efforts.

Through these objectives, the webinar aimed to foster a deeper understanding of the complexities surrounding women's human rights, inspire advocacy for gender equality, and encourage participants to contribute to ongoing efforts aimed at securing and advancing women's rights in both national and international contexts.

Brief Description

One-day National level Webinar on Women & Human Rights: New Dynamics Has been organized by the Department of Political Science, on 8th March 2022. This webinar has been organized to celebrate the International Women's Day. Dr. Swati Chakraborty, Assistant Professor, Institute of Legal Studies and Research & Deputy Director, Centre for Human Rights, Law and Justice, GLA University, Mathura and Founder of Web Platform 4 Dialogue has been invited to deliver the lecture. In her 1-hour lecture, she has touched upon several issues. Women since ancient times have remained to be the gender which is dominated by the male society. Apart from the day-to-day restrictions imposed upon them practices such as polygamy, sati, child marriage, and dowry further added to their oppression. With the drastic increase witnessed in various forms of violence against women, Mahatma Gandhi in the 20th Century came up with the National Movement for the Liberalization of Women. Alongside came movements started by learned persons such as Rajaram Mohan Roy and Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar who focused on the education of women, the prevention of the sati system and restraining polygamy. Sati Prevention Act, 1987, Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 and Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 were introduced as the result of the struggles. After this came laws such as the Hindu Marriage Act, of 1955, which made monogamy a rule, Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, of 2005, where the women got their due share in the property. After all the struggle and oppression faced by the women, these legislations came in as toddler steps towards liberalisation and fetching an equal share of rights. The coming of the women into the professional field and getting their due share of rights under the various personal laws, came in as a drastic change for the society, something which couldn't be easily put into effect. The National Crime Records Bureau reveals that the total number of crimes committed in the nation was reported to be 3,886 per million in the year 2017.

Description:

One-day College-level Webinar on Different types of Feminism has been organized by the Department of Political Science, S.R. Fatepuria College in collaboration with the Department of Political Science, Hazi A.K. Khan College on 19th March 2022. It has been considered as a part of the MOU which has been signed between these two colleges. This seminar was conducted through online mode via Google Meet. 35 students from both the colleges joined the seminar. Mrs. Chitralekha Kanjilal, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Memari College, West Bengal has been invited to deliver a lecture. In her lecture she said through different types of feminism, people gain an understanding of the range of feminisms that have emerged since the 1960s and how their different approaches respond to problems of patriarchy and power. Then Mrs. Kanjilal started to highlight on different types of feminism. For Madam, Liberal Feminism works within the structure of mainstream society to integrate women into it and make it more responsive to individual women's rights but does not directly challenge the system itself or the ideology behind women's oppression. Radical feminism views patriarchy and sexism as the most elemental factor in women's oppression – cutting across all others from race and age to culture, caste and class. It questions the very system and ideology behind women's subjugation. School of thought which argues that sexism, class oppression, gender identity and racism are inextricably bound together. The way these concepts relate to each other is called intersectionality. Feminists, grounded in Marxist and socialist analysis, attribute women's oppression principally to the capitalist economic system where global corporate power prevails. Many other feminists believe that this form of power seen in the class system is a crucial factor in women's subordination but see patriarchy as the major force behind women's subjugation. Cultural feminism emphasizes essential differences between men and women in terms of biology, personality and behaviour. This form of feminism views patriarchy and its focus on control and domination not only as a source of women's oppression but as being harmful to humanity as well as destructive of all living creatures and the earth itself. After that, our resource person discussed about other branches of feminism. Students have been asked to raise questions after the presentation. Overall, this interactive seminar has effectively benefitted the students.

BriefDescription

Economic incentives to parents and arrangements which bond children and young women into sex-slavery or other exploitative forms of labour, though details of these debt terms are ill-defined. Criminal gangs or middlemen kidnap women and children, force them to work against their will, and often sell them to brothels. Now a day the condition become worse due to economical difference. Murshidabad district is one of the hotspot of human trafficking. Hence, NSS in collaboration with the IQAC, S. R. Fatepuria College organized a one-day college level webinar on this burning issue. Dr. Sourav Madhur De, Head Department of Sociology, the University of Bardwan University critically discuss the cause and consequences of human trafficking in women and children. He also statistically depicted the clayed picture of human trafficking, especially women and children in this district as well as in our state. A significant number of students and teachers of the institute actively participated in the webinar and got illuminated on this issue.

There are two different types of research papers: primaryresearch and secondary research. The primary research is the study of a subject through first-hand investigation, such as analysing a literary or historical text, a film, a performance, conducting a survey or an interview, or carrying out laboratory experiment. Primary sources include statistical data, historical documents, and works of literature or art. Secondary research is the examination of studies that other researchers have made on a subject. Examples of secondary sources are articles and books, scientific debates, or literary works. Writing a research paper is making a contribution to the scientific community. In order for the results of research to be accessible to other professionals and have a potential effect on the scientific community, it must be written and published in suitable journals

Dr. Sarkar has said that a research paper must contain the following sections.

a. Title b. Abstract c. Introduction/ Background d. Body e. Discussion f. Conclusion & g. Reference.

After the presentation, participants were asked some questions. Dr. Sarkar has tried his best to clear the doubts of the participants. We are thankful to him for sharing his knowledge on this topic with us.
